

BASEMENT PLUMBING

Be advised that all basement plumbing fixtures installed after March 1, 1999, are required to be protected by back water valves. This requirement only applies when the home is connected to a public sewer system. Any plumbing that has been installed and not finished prior to March 1, 1999, is not exempt from the requirements of the Plumbing Code.

Please be advised that any rough plumbing pipes that were installed during the original house construction but not finished, may not meet the required placement distances as specified in the Plumbing Code.
